Franklin Templeton Charitable Giving Program

Donor program circular

Thank you for considering the Franklin Templeton Charitable Giving Program. Our Donor-Advised Fund¹ provides clients with a simple and flexible way to give to a favorite charity. It is dedicated to helping individuals effectively reach their philanthropic goals while maximizing the impact of their gifts.

Since 2005, the Franklin Templeton Charitable Giving Program has been serviced by Renaissance Charitable Foundation Inc. (RCF)²—an industry leader helping clients achieve philanthropic goals. Together, donors have granted over $2.1 billion to charities through the Franklin Templeton Charitable Giving Program over the past 20+ years.³

The Franklin Templeton Charitable Giving Program is a simple alternative to creating a private foundation, giving you the opportunity to make charitable contributions that are immediately deductible, and that can be invested and grow tax-free. When ready, you can make grant recommendations to charities or causes that are important to you. Families can even establish multi-generational charitable giving.

Take a moment to review the program circular to understand the benefits and actions required to open an account.

1. A donor-advised fund is a separately identified account that is maintained and operated by a section 501(c)(3) organization, and is not a registered investment company.

2. Renaissance is a charitable organization described in Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (the "Code") and further qualifies as a public charity under Section 509(a)(1), 170(b)(1)(A), and 4966(d)(1) of the Code.

3. Total grants since inception in 2005 as of March 2026, reported by Renaissance.

Benefits

In addition to the satisfaction of pursuing your charitable goals, few charitable giving options provide the versatility and tax efficiency of a donor-advised fund. Franklin Templeton Charitable Giving Program provides many significant benefits. As a donor, you benefit from:

Flexibility and control

Maximize your giving power

Your contributions to the program are invested in one or more professionally managed Franklin Templeton mutual funds, providing the potential for compound tax-free growth over time—potentially enhancing your ability to make even more grants to charities in the future.

Give anonymously

You may also choose to make charitable grants anonymously, keeping your name and personal information confidential.

Establish a legacy of giving

You're able to name grant advisors who can recommend grants from your account, and select successors who can recommend grants to continue your charitable legacy beyond your lifetime.

Tax advantages

Enjoy an immediate tax reduction

Your contributions to the program are fully tax-deductible in the year they're made. Unused tax deductions may be carried forward for up to five additional years subject to applicable limitations under the Code.

Donate appreciated assets tax-free

When you contribute appreciated assets to the program, you can generally deduct their full fair market value from your taxable income—and avoid US federal capital gains tax liability. This might include securities and improved or unimproved real estate.

Operational ease

Separate tax planning and charitable decisions

You can realize immediate tax advantages now and make grants to charity later. Franklin Templeton Charitable Giving Program eliminates the pressure of having to select and donate to a charity by year-end.

Simplify recordkeeping

Franklin Templeton Charitable Giving Program provides consolidated reporting and recordkeeping. You receive quarterly account statements, gift receipts and tax reporting information from RCF.

Advantages of donating appreciated assets: A win for you. A win for charity.

Franklin Templeton Charitable Giving Program provides an efficient way to contribute appreciated assets to charity. When you contribute them to your account, you can generally deduct the assets' fair market value from your income without incurring any US federal capital gains tax liability—so you can give more, at less cost to you.

Example

Phillip Smith invested $10,000 in an initial public offering (IPO) several years ago. Today the shares are worth $100,000. Phillip would like to use the shares to establish a scholarship program at his alma mater to give less fortunate students the chance to earn an education. He has several options, among them selling his stock and giving the cash proceeds to the university, or contributing the appreciated securities to his Franklin Templeton Charitable Giving Program account.

The tax and giving advantages of donating appreciated assets are illustrated in the table below. The example assumes a contribution of $100,000 in long-term, appreciated property, with a cost basis of $10,000 (does not include liquidation costs).

	Option 1: Sell and Donate Sell asset and donate the cash proceeds to charity	Option 2: Donate Donate the asset directly to Franklin Templeton Charitable Giving Program
Current Value of Asset	$100,000	$100,000
US Federal Capital Gains Tax Paid by Donor (23.8% of $90,000)⁴	$21,420	$0
Amount Received by Charity	$78,580	$100,000—charity receives an additional $21,420
Income Tax Savings to Donor (35% Bracket)⁵	$27,503	$35,000
“Cost” of Donation to Donor	$72,497	$65,000—donor saves $7,497

The above example is for illustrative purposes only. Franklin Templeton does not provide legal or tax advice. Federal and state laws and regulations are complex and subject to change, which can materially impact results. Franklin Distributors, LLC cannot guarantee that such information is accurate, complete or timely, and disclaims any liability arising out of your use of, or any tax position taken in reliance on, such information. See page 12 for a list of administrative fees and investment expenses in the charitable giving program.

Glossary of terms

Donor-advised fund (DAF):

A separately identified account that is maintained and operated by a section 501(c)(3) organization and is not a registered investment company.

Donors:

Individuals or entities that contribute to a DAF. The donor can recommend the grant advisor and financial professional that serves the DAF.

Grants:

Payments made from a DAF to a charitable organization for which the charity provides no benefits to the grant advisor.

Grant advisors:

Individuals or entities that can recommend grants and changes in the financial professional and investments for a DAF. Usually, the initial donor is the DAF grant advisor. Grant advisors can also designate a successor grant advisor.

4. For high-net-worth individuals, the federal long-term capital gains tax rate is generally 20%. In addition, a 3.8% Net Investment Income Tax (NIIT) may apply, resulting in a combined federal rate of 23.8%. This example does not account for any state or local taxes.

5. Tax savings assume a full deduction for charitable contributions. Your actual tax savings may be less.

Establishing an account

Both individuals and groups can open an account in Franklin Templeton Charitable Giving Program.

Opening an account

An account can be opened by completing the Donor Contribution Agreement on page 19. Please return the completed, signed Agreement to your financial professional. Your financial professional will activate your account online. Additional forms are available at ft.donorfirstx.com or by calling (800) 843-7997.

Account Facts

Initial Contribution	The initial contribution must be at least $5,000.
Additions to the Account	Subsequent contributions must be at least $1,000 and can be made at any time.
Irrevocable Contributions ⁶	Contributions to Franklin Templeton Charitable Giving Program are irrevocable and unconditional.
Types of Contributions	Donors may contribute cash, stocks, bonds and mutual funds. Real estate, collectibles, cryptocurrency, privately held or restricted stock may also be contributed to an account; however, the transfer may take longer, may involve additional cost and is subject to special instructions. Donors should speak to their financial professional about the various types of gifts they may wish to contribute.
Naming the Account	Donors will be asked to name their account for use in correspondence and for publications. Donors may want the name to reflect the charitable goals of their account; for example, “The Smith Family Educational Fund” or “The Charles Jones Ecological Fund.”
Grant Advisors	Donors may assign Grant Advisors to the account who can recommend grants during the donor’s lifetime. A Grant Advisor is usually the donor, or a spouse, child, relative or friend the donor believes will recommend grants from the account intended to be consistent with the donor’s areas of interest.
Successors and Charitable Beneficiaries	Donors may name one or more successors or charitable beneficiaries to the account. A successor gains full responsibility for the account upon the death or resignation of all the original donors, including the ability to make contributions, recommend grants and name Grant Advisors and successors. A charitable organization may be named as the account beneficiary if the donor prefers to have all of the remaining assets in the account or 4% of the account annually granted to a charitable organization upon the death of all original donors. In the event the recommended charity no longer exists or does not qualify to receive grants from a donor-advised fund, RCF will award grants to a charity similar to the original charity.
Area of Interest	To honor the charitable intent of the original donor, donors are required to indicate a charitable organization, an area of interest or a geographical area (for example, The Salvation Army, cancer research, New York City historic preservation). In the event the account has no grant or contribution activity for three consecutive years, RCF will make reasonable attempts to contact the donor or named successors of record. If RCF cannot contact those parties, its Board of Directors will direct grants from the account to the original donor’s area of interest.

6. Contributions to Franklin Templeton Charitable Giving Program are irrevocable contributions made to Renaissance Charitable Foundation Inc., a 501(c)(3) public charity. Individuals considering a contribution to Franklin Templeton Charitable Giving Program should consult their legal and tax professional regarding deductions, based on their personal considerations.

Funding an account

A Franklin Templeton Charitable Giving Program account may be funded in the following ways:

Check, wire or transfer

Contributions can be wired, transferred from a bank account or an existing Franklin Templeton account or made by check and mailed using the forms included in the donor kit or those available at ft.donorfirstx.com.

Publicly traded stocks, bonds and mutual funds

Publicly traded stocks, bonds and mutual funds can be transferred (“in-kind”) from an existing Franklin Templeton account or an account at another financial institution.

Other contributions

If the contribution involves mutual funds, bonds, real estate, cryptocurrency, restricted stock or other non-publicly traded securities, the donor should have their financial professional contact Renaissance Charitable Foundation at (800) 843-7997.

RCF will review all contributions and if approved, donors will receive a written acknowledgement once a contribution has been invested. For contributions of appreciated, publicly traded securities, RCF’s receipt will include a good-faith estimate of the fair market value on the date the contribution is made. If for any reason a contribution is not accepted, it will be returned to the account of origin.

Deferred contributions

A Franklin Templeton Charitable Giving Program account may be named as the beneficiary of a charitable bequest, a charitable remainder trust, charitable lead trust, a qualified retirement plan or a private foundation. When doing this, RCF should be named for deferred contributions in care of the donor’s account in Franklin Templeton Charitable Giving Program.

Donors should first consult their tax, legal and financial professionals when setting up any deferred contribution or trust. To open an account with a deferred contribution, donors should complete a Donor Contribution Agreement, name the account and choose successors or charitable beneficiaries.

Account valuation

“It is every man’s obligation to put back into the world at least the equivalent of what he takes out of it.”

Dr. Albert Einstein

Check, wire or transfer

Franklin Templeton Charitable Giving Program account will be credited with the value of the donor’s contribution.

Publicly traded stock

The account will be credited with the net proceeds, after liquidation costs, from the sale of the securities contributed by the donor.

Liquidation

The Program will seek to liquidate securities contributed by the donor promptly, which is usually on the next trading day but only after RCF matches the contributed securities with a specific donor.

Account value and income

At any point, account value will be computed as the sum of the initial net contributions plus interest, dividends and other investment income, including capital gain distributions from underlying investment vehicles, less grant distributions and other operating expenses. The value of the account will also fluctuate with market movements.

If your contribution includes the following, please contact your financial professional or call Renaissance Charitable Foundation at (800) 843-7997, for assistance in determining eligibility.

- 1 | Restricted, closely held or non-publicly traded securities
- 2 | Appreciated real estate
- 3 | Art or other collectibles

Trading disclosure

In its sole discretion, RCF will determine the timing and execution of a sales strategy for any asset, including a contributed asset, and reserves the right to sell at any time. Generally, RCF liquidates contributed assets only after associating a contribution with its Donor. Some assets, such as large positions and shares traded on a foreign exchange, may take multiple trading days to liquidate. At its sole discretion, RCF may engage a third-party broker or a trading desk to determine and execute a selling strategy. Any costs, including commissions, incurred in managing or liquidating an asset will be paid from the sale proceeds. Market fluctuations and costs to liquidate an asset may cause the net liquidation proceeds of a contributed asset to be worth more or less than the value of the contribution to the DAF.

Investment options

Franklin Templeton provides professional investment management for the Franklin Templeton Charitable Giving Program.

Each time you make a contribution to your Franklin Templeton Charitable Giving account, you can recommend the investment option(s) for that contribution, providing the potential to grow your contributed assets and an opportunity to increase the amount you have available for charitable grants in the future.

RCF will invest the donor's contribution as soon as administratively possible, though the date of purchase may be delayed by market deadlines, trade settlements and other factors. This value will include any realized or unrealized gains or losses and undistributed net investment income attributable to the investments (if applicable).

Donors may recommend up to five different funds for their investment allocation. Donors may change their investment strategy composition by submitting a reallocation request. If a donor does not select an investment strategy, the contributions will be automatically invested in the Franklin Institutional U.S. Government Money Market Fund. The Program's Board of Directors has the sole responsibility and authority for investing the program's assets and may adjust the composition of its investment strategies from time to time. Please remember, there is no assurance that any mutual fund will achieve its objective. Share prices and investment returns will fluctuate with changes in the market.

* You could lose money by investing in the Fund. Although the Fund seeks to preserve the value of your investment at $1.00 per share, it cannot guarantee it will do so. An investment in the Fund is not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other government agency. The fund's sponsor is not required to reimburse the fund for losses, and you should not expect that the sponsor will provide financial support to the fund at any time, including during periods of market stress. Tax deductions

“If you want one year of prosperity, grow grain. If you want ten years of prosperity, grow trees. If you want one hundred years of prosperity, grow people.”

Chinese Proverb

Franklin Templeton Charitable Giving Program offers many tax advantages. In addition to receiving an immediate federal income tax deduction, you have the opportunity to lower your current taxes, and the convenience of being able to more easily track and plan your charitable activities for future tax years.

Your contributions to the program are considered irrevocable charitable donations, fully deductible on the date it's received by RCF. The extent of your deduction depends on the type of asset being contributed, as well as your particular tax situation. Please consult your legal or tax professional for more information.

Check, wire or transfer contributions

Cash contributions are eligible for a federal income tax deduction of up to 60% of your adjusted gross income (AGI) in the tax year in which the contribution is made or 50% depending on your other charitable gifts. If your contribution exceeds this limit, you may carry the deduction forward up to five years.

Publicly traded securities

For publicly traded securities held for more than one year, the amount of the deduction is the mean value of the high and low prices of the security on the date of the contribution.

You may generally deduct up to 30% of your AGI for contributions of appreciated securities held more than one year. For securities held for one year or less, the deduction is based on either your cost basis or fair market value, whichever is lower. If your contribution exceeds the 30% AGI limit, you can carry the deduction forward up to five years.

Estate taxes

All contributions to Franklin Templeton Charitable Giving Program are irrevocable contributions and therefore are not subject to estate taxes.

Account growth

Any growth of your donor-advised fund account resulting from investment growth is exempt from US federal income taxes, but is not deductible.

Capital gains

One of the most rewarding benefits of donor-advised funds is the ability to contribute appreciated assets without incurring US federal capital gains tax liability.

Recommending grants

Donors and Grant Advisors may recommend grants to qualified charitable organizations by submitting a Grant Recommendation Request through the dedicated online Donor Portal at ft.donorfirstx.com. Upon receipt of a donor's recommendation, RCF will verify that the charitable organization is eligible to receive the grant (see Allowable Charities and Restrictions below).

Grants are made electronically (via Automated Clearing House (ACH)) or by check, depending on the charity. Each grant will include the name of the Franklin Templeton Charitable Giving Program account and a letter will be provided reflecting the donor's preference, which could include the account name and the donor's name, a special acknowledgment (e.g. in memory of, in honor of) or no donor information, if preferred. Quarterly statements will list the donor-advised fund account's grants for the preceding quarter.

Grant Facts

Anonymous Grants	Donors can designate that a grant be anonymous or be given in the name of another individual.
Allocating Grants	Grants funded by redeeming fund shares will be processed in a manner that maintains the current portfolio allocation.
Minimum Grant Amounts	The minimum grant amount is $50.

Public charities

Grants can be made to charitable organizations that are tax-exempt under Code Section 501(c)(3) and to certain private foundations under Code Section 509(a). Grants can be made to private operating foundations but cannot be made to private non-operating foundations or to certain supporting organizations.⁷

Religious and educational

Most established religious organizations and educational institutions are not listed as 501(c)(3) nonprofits but are nevertheless tax-exempt charitable organizations. RCF will facilitate making grants to such organizations.

Foreign charitable organizations

RCF can make grants to certain foreign charities. If applicable, additional fees may be charged to the account for any additional due diligence and processing costs.

Restrictions

General restrictions

RCF will not approve grants to individuals, to private non-operating foundations or to political candidates or parties. RCF also will not approve grants to satisfy a pre-existing pledge or for any private benefit such as dues, tuition, membership fees, or goods purchased at a charitable auction.

⁷ Non-functionally Integrated Type III Supporting Organizations: Type III supporting organizations that are not "functionally integrated" are not eligible to receive grants from RCF. Supporting organizations are public charities described in sections 501(c)(3) and 509(a)(3) of the Code, which are organized and operated exclusively for the benefit of specified public charities. Supporting organizations are public charities specifically defined by the type of relationship they have with their publicly supported organizations. Section 4943(f)(5)(A) for the Code describes "Type III" supporting organizations. Type III supporting organizations that are "not functionally integrated" are those other than Type III supporting organizations described in section 4943(f)(5)(B) of the Code.

Fees and expenses

Charitable administration fee

Renaissance charges an annual administrative fee, applied monthly, as compensation for its services under this Agreement as provided in this section. Unless a special fee arrangement is agreed to for a specific DAF, each DAF shall bear its own portion of the annual administration fee based on the weighted average of the basis points associated with each asset tier in the following fee schedule:

Month-End Account Balance	Annual Administration Fee ⁸
Up to $1,000,000	0.75% of assets or $100 (whichever is greater)
Next $1,500,000	0.65%
Next $2,500,000	0.55%
Assets over $5,000,000	0.35%

Each month, Renaissance will be entitled to assess, in arrears, a $\frac{1}{12}$ portion of the annual administrative fee for each DAF in the DAF Program with the annual administrative fee for each DAF in that month based on the market value of such DAF on the last business day of the prior month. Each month, Renaissance shall withdraw such fee from the investments held in the DAF Program.

For clarity, the following is an example of how the monthly fees would be assessed by Renaissance:

Example

If a DAF has a balance of $75,000 on January 31, the monthly fee assessed by Renaissance for January would be 0.0625% (0.75% divided by 12) multiplied by $75,000, or $46.88.

If, on February 28, the same DAF has a balance of $8,000,000, the monthly fee assessed for February would be $3,458.33, calculated as follows:

Tier 1	0.75% x $1,000,000	$7,500
Tier 2	0.65% x $1,500,000	$9,750
Tier 3	0.55% x $2,500,000	$13,750
Tier 4	0.35% x $3,000,000	$10,500
Sum of Tiers 1–4		$41,500
Sum Divided by 1/12		$3,458.33

8. Renaissance reserves the right to increase annually the Annual Administration Fee to correct for inflation. Such increase will be based on the Consumer Price Index as published by the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics and will be capped at 3%. Renaissance will provide at least ninety (90) days prior written notice to Customer of any increase to the Annual Administration Fee.
